1. Prerequisites: NONE

2. Purpose of Position: The primary objective of this position is to augment the manpower resources of the host command so that it may provide adequate support to its tenant FME units. The Chief Cook is assigned to the Management and Mess Attendant (M&MA) garrison mess hall to supervise and manage Marine Food Service Specialists.

3. Major Duties: The FAP Marine Chief Cook is responsible for assigning cooking tasks to the Food Service Specialists, also known as Cooks-On-Watch, in accordance with the requirements of the Contractor's approved menus and recipes.

4. Supervision: The Chief Cook will supervise the work effort of the Cooks-On-Watch and the production of the different food and entrées required for each meal. He or she will personally inspect and brief the watch before preparation of the first meal, and debrief upon completion of the meal.

5. Work Environment: Work performed is primarily conducted within the garrison mess hall. The work involves prolonged periods of standing and supervising by walking around. He or she will also be required to kneel, crouch, lift, and stoop while conducting business at the M&MA mess hall.

6. Additional Duties:

a. Morning Reports: Maintain accountability of Marine Food Service Specialists working in the facility.

Billet Position Description

b. Manpower Emergency Reaction Cell (MERC) Team member: Upon activation of the MERC, actively participate in the accountability and evacuation cell for the Installation's Command Center via MCB G4, Logistics and the Base Food Service Office. Marine Locator will be involved in all MERC training periods as well as two annual state level exercises.

7. Personal Contacts: Contacts may include all branches of Armed Forces active and reserve military personnel.

8. Hours of Billet: This is shift work, requiring each Chief Cook to work a minimum of 40 hours per week, 8 hours a day, which does not include training periods.

a. As is the nature of garrison food services, the Chief Cook will also be required to work various hours on Saturday, Sundays, evenings, and holidays to support operations.

9. Customer Base: On a daily basis, this billet supports the following customer base.

a. All authorized patrons, most of which are 1 MEF Marines, in the respective areas.

10. Validation: The Marine Corps Base Camp Pendleton Food Service Office only has four gunnery sergeant billets on their T/O. Those four billets serve as Quality Assurance Evaluators to support the Food Service Quality Assurance Surveillance Program (QASP), which monitors contractor performance under Regional Garrison Food Service Contract. As such, the structure and manning is insufficient and there is a need to supplement the Marine Corps Base Camp Pendleton Food Service Office with nine Fleet Assistance Program Marines to support the tenant FMF Commanders and their Marines.
